Welcome message from the CEO:

London College of Developmental Studies is unique of its approach; It does offer academic degrees, professional certifications, charters and professional training; all aiming at developing professional capacities for those who are eager to develop themselves in a unique way.

In order to offer unique services, the top management of the college has decided to join forces with other prestigious institutions, from Britain, US, Malaysia, Lebanon and others.

Because of the need raised by some of our students who decided to have programmes in Arabic, we have arranged for some of our programmes to run in collaboration with Arabic oriented institutions, mainly University of College of Da'wa in Lebanon.

The programmes of London College are divided into four categories:

- Academic Degrees (Doctorate, Master and Bachelour)
- Professional Certification: such as charters, professional titles, licenses and Leadership.
- International Certification, for degrees and courses offered by international institutes,
- Professional Training for short courses

In order to facilitate the management of the huge number of programmes and to make it easy for those who are interested to join; London College of Developmental Studies has established many professional institutes; each is headed by a top professional as a dean.

I would like to welcome and encourage professionalism seekers to register with our college through one of its institutes, so that they can prevail.

Professor Ahmad Saed;

CEO

Board of Trustees:

London College of Developmental Studies is strategically lead by professional elites from the UK and other countries.

Accreditation/Endorsement:

- All Degrees and certification (academic/professional) are accredited by internationally recognized universities/accrediting/professional bodies
- Professional Certification endorsement by Legalisation Office, Foreign and Commonwealth Office, UK
